SEMIANNUAL REPORT TO THE CONGRESS

OCTOBER 1, 1999 - MARCH 31, 2000

Office of Inspector General

April 30, 2000

MEMORANDUM

TO: William Ivey
Chairman

FROM: Edward Johns
Inspector General

SUBJECT: Semiannual Report to the Congress: October 1, 1999 - March 31, 2000

The Inspector General Act of 1978 (Public Law 95-452), as amended, calls for the preparation of semiannual reports to the Congress summarizing the activities of my office for the six-month periods ending each March 31 and September 30. I am pleased to enclose the report for the period from October 1, 1999 to March 31, 2000.

The Inspector General's report covers audits, investigations and other reviews conducted by the Office of Inspector General (OIG), and indicates the status of management decisions whether to implement or not to implement recommendations made by the OIG. Formats for Tables I and II in the report were developed by the President's Council on Integrity and Efficiency to obtain consistency of presentation by the Federal agencies. The tables provide only summary totals and do not include a breakdown by auditee. An attachment to this memorandum, which is not part of the report, provides additional detail for Table I.

The Act requires that you transmit the report to the appropriate committees of the Congress within 30 days of receipt, together with any comments you may wish to make. Comments that you might offer should be included in your "Report on Final Action," a management report that is required to be submitted along with the Inspector General's report. We will work closely with your staff to assist in the preparation of the management report. The due date for submission of both reports is May 30, 2000.

I appreciate the continuing support we have received from you and your managers throughout the Agency. Working together, I believe we have taken positive steps to improve Agency programs and operations. We look forward to continuing these efforts.

INTRODUCTION

On October 18, 1988, the President signed Public Law 100-504, the Inspector General Act Amendments of 1988. This law amended the Inspector General Act of 1978, Public Law 95-452, and required the establishment of independent Offices of Inspector General (OIG) at several designated Federal entities and establishments, including the National Endowment for the Arts (NEA). A completely autonomous OIG was established at the NEA on April 9, 1989.

The mission of the OIG is to:

- Conduct and supervise independent and objective audits and investigations relating to NEA programs and operations;
- Promote economy, effectiveness and efficiency within the NEA;
- Prevent and detect fraud, waste and abuse in NEA programs and operations;
- Review and make recommendations regarding existing and proposed legislation and regulations relating to NEA programs and operations; and
- Keep the NEA Chairman and the Congress fully and currently informed of problems in agency programs and operations.

This semiannual report summarizes the OIG's major activities, initiatives and results for the six-month period ending March 31, 2000. During this period, the OIG filled its one vacant position, thus restoring the staff size to four persons – three auditors and one program analyst. There is no investigator on the staff. In order to provide a reactive investigative capability, we have signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Inspector General of the General Services Administration (GSA) whereby the GSA's OIG agrees to provide investigative coverage for us on a reimbursable basis as needed. (No investigative coverage from GSA was needed during the period.)

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

To meet our responsibilities, the OIG conducted the following audits, reviews, investigations and other activities during this reporting period.

Audits

During the six-month period ending March 31, 2000, the OIG issued 31 audit reports. Six of the reports were based on reviews performed entirely by OIG personnel; 25 reports set forth the results of OIG desk reviews of audit reports and other materials related to grantee organizations that were required to have audits performed by independent auditors. Our reports contained a total of eight recommendations, of which four concerned issues of financial management at grantee organizations, three related to the need for OMB Circular A-133 audits, and one pointed to the Agency's Day One preparations for the Year 2000.

Audit Resolution

At the beginning of the six-month period, there was one report awaiting a management decision to allow or disallow questioned costs. During the period, no new reports identified any questioned costs or potential refunds.

No management decision was made on the one open report during the period. Therefore, at the end of the period, there remained one report outstanding with questioned costs and potential refunds, which are to be identified during the audit followup process. (See Table I for details.)

Investigations

No new allegation cases were opened during the recent six-month period. Of the two open cases carried over from the previous period, one is in abeyance pending the resolution of a related lawsuit. The other open case is still undergoing preliminary review. No criminal investigations were performed during the period.

Indirect Cost Rate Evaluations

Indirect costs are incurred for common or joint objectives, which cannot be readily and specifically identified with a particular project or activity. The costs of operating and maintaining facilities, depreciation or use allowances, and administrative salaries and supplies are typical examples of costs that nonprofit organizations usually consider to be indirect.

Indirect cost rates are established by agreement between a non-Federal organization and a Federal agency (usually the agency that furnishes the preponderance of Federal funding) that acts on behalf of all Federal agencies in approving rates with the organization. During this period, the OIG evaluated 13 indirect cost rate proposals submitted by NEA grantee organizations.

Review of Legislation, Rules, Regulations and Other Issuances

The OIG is required to review and comment on proposed legislation and regulations for their potential impact on the agency and its operations. During this reporting period, the OIG reviewed a proposed revision to the NEA's Administrative Directive 2771, "Grievance System." We also provided analysis and written commentary on a variety of management proposals dealing with the internal operations of the agency and with making editorial revisions to NEA publications that are intended for public consumption.

Technical Assistance

The OIG provided substantial technical assistance to numerous NEA grantee organizations and their independent auditors. Our efforts included, for example, clarifying and interpreting the audit requirements of OMB Circular A-133, "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," and explaining alternative methods of accounting for indirect costs.

The OIG also assisted Agency staff with technical issues related to auditing and accounting. For example, we evaluated the nature and extent of corrective actions taken in response to audit recommendations and advised the Agency's Audit Followup Official as to whether or not the desired results were achieved.

Web Site Development

The OIG developed a web site to assist and inform NEA grantees and Agency employees, as well. The site includes the Inspectors General Vision Statement, answers to frequently asked questions, our two Financial Management Guides, past Semiannual Reports to the Congress, the OIG Strategic Plan, information about contacting OIG staff, how to report wrongful acts, and information about alternative methods of funding.

Other Activities

The OIG continued to track and evaluate the NEA's preparations for responding to the Y2K crisis. Our focus was on minimizing business interruption and ensuring that alternative means would be available for carrying out the Agency's critical functions in the event of data processing setbacks. We are pleased to report that the Agency's transition into Y2K was smooth and was accomplished without any significant processing errors.

We also initiated ongoing efforts to coordinate the preparations for the OIG's ancillary role (validation and verification) under the Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA) with the central role (goals identification and performance measurement) that the GPRA assigns to the Agency. In addition, the OIG took part in the activities of the Executive Council on Integrity and Efficiency (ECIE), and allocated resources for responding to requests for information from the Congress and other agencies.

SECTIONS OF REPORT

The following sections of this report discuss the twelve areas specifically required to be included according to Section 5(a) of the Act. Table I identifies Inspector General issued reports with questioned costs and Table II shows that there were no Inspector General issued reports with recommendations that funds be put to better use.

SECTION 1 - Significant Problems, Abuses and Deficiencies

Audits and other reviews conducted by OIG personnel during the current and prior periods have disclosed a few instances of deficient financial management practices in some organizations that received NEA grants. Among these were:

- Reported grant project costs did not agree with the accounting records, i.e., financial status reports were not prepared directly from the general ledger or subsidiary ledgers or from worksheets reconciled to the accounts;
- Personnel costs charged to grant projects were not supported by adequate documentation, i.e., personnel activity reports were not maintained to support allocations of personnel costs to NEA projects;
- The amount allocated to grant projects for common (indirect) costs which benefited all projects and activities of the organization was not supported by adequate documentation; and
- Grantees needed to improve internal controls, such as ensuring a proper separation of duties to safeguard resources and including procedures for comparing actual costs with the budget.

SECTION 2 - Recommendations for Corrective Action

To assist our grantees in correcting or avoiding the deficiencies identified above, the OIG has prepared two "Financial Management Guides," one for non-profit organizations and the other for state and local governments. The guides are not offered as complete manuals of procedures; rather, they are intended to provide practical information on what is expected from grantee organizations in terms of fiscal accountability. Copies of the guides are routinely distributed as new grants are awarded.

The guides discuss accountability standards in the areas of financial management, internal controls, audit and reporting. The guides also contain sections on unallowable costs and shortcomings to avoid. In addition, the guides include short lists of useful references and some sample documentation forms.

SECTION 3 - Recommendations in Previous Reports on Which Corrective Action Has Not Been Implemented

There were no recommendations in previous reports on which corrective action has not been implemented.

SECTION 4 - Matters Referred to Prosecuting Authorities

No matters were referred to prosecuting authorities during this reporting period.

SECTION 5 - Denials of Access to Records

No denials of access to records occurred during this reporting period.

SECTION 7 - Listing of Particularly Significant Reports

There were no particularly significant reports during the reporting period.

SECTION 8 - Statistical Tables Showing Total Number of Audit Reports and the Dollar Value of Questioned Costs

Table I of this report presents the statistical information showing the total number of audit reports and the total dollar value of questioned costs.

SECTION 9 - Statistical Tables Showing Total Number of Audit Reports and the Dollar Value of Recommendations that Funds be Put to Better Use by Management

As shown on Table II, there were no audit reports with recommendations that funds be put to better use by management.

SECTION 10 - Audit Reports Issued Before the Commencement of the Reporting Period for Which No Management Decision Has Been Made by the End of the Reporting Period

1. OAA-99-45 – Cornerstone Theatre Company – Issued 5/13/99

Recommendation

The grantee should review the salary and fringe benefit costs incurred under grant nos. 93-4624-0050 and 94-3226-0086. Based on the review, the grantee should provide the NEA with documentation that supports the salary and fringe benefit costs incurred under the above grants. In addition, the grantee should provide a detailed schedule to support the other costs incurred under the grants. If the matching requirements of the grants are not met, the NEA may be due a refund, as appropriate.

Reason No Management Decision Was Made

Grantee's response was received prior to 3/31/00. However, additional clarification has been requested. It is anticipated that a management decision on the recommendation will be made by 6/30/00.

SECTION 11 - Significant Revised Management Decisions Made During the Period

No significant revised management decisions were made during the reporting period.

SECTION 12 - Significant Management Decisions With Which the Inspector General Disagrees

There were no significant management decisions that the Inspector General disagreed with during the reporting period.

1/ The potential refund amount usually will not equal the questioned costs amount because matching requirements must be considered and the grantee may be either under or over matched. In addition, historically, the potential refund generally is reduced significantly as a result of the audit followup process, which includes examination of documentation submitted by the grantee.

2/ Includes one oversight audit agency review where the amount of costs questioned and any potential refunds cannot be determined until additional information is obtained.

DEFINITIONS OF TERMS USED

The following definitions apply to terms used in reporting audit statistics:

Questioned Cost	A cost which the Office of Inspector General (OIG) questioned because of alleged non-compliance with a provision of a law, regulation, contract, or other agreement or document governing the expenditure of funds; such cost is not supported by adequate documentation; or the expenditure of funds for the intended purpose is unnecessary or unreasonable.
Unsupported Cost	A cost which the OIG questioned because the cost was not supported by adequate documentation at the time of the audit.
Disallowed Cost	A questioned cost that management, in a management decision, has sustained or agreed should not be charged to the NEA.
Funds Be Put To Better Use	A recommendation made by the OIG that funds could be used more efficiently if management took actions to implement and complete the recommendation.
Management Decision	Management's evaluation of the findings and recommendations included in the audit report and the issuance of a final decision by management concerning its response to such findings and recommendations, including actions concluded to be necessary. Interim decisions and actions are not considered final management decisions for the purpose of the tables in this report.
Final Action	The completion of all management actions that are described in a management decision with respect to audit findings and recommendations. If management concluded that no actions were necessary, final action occurs when a management decision is issued.
